Contaminated Land

GroundSure's team of environmental consultants has reviewed the data contained within the GroundSure Homebuyers Ref: Homebuyers

Dated: January 2011

Based on this information, the level of environmental risk¹ associated with the property Courtlands, Arundel Road, Tangmere, Chichester PO18 0JZ has been

Passed

GroundSure considers that there is not a "High Potential Risk" that the Site will be identified as "Contaminated Land" under the Environmental Protection Act 1990. It is therefore GroundSure's professional opinion that "Contaminated Land" issues are unlikely to have a significant impact on the security of the Site for normal lending purposes.²

Flood Risk

The Environment Agency river and tidal flood data indicates that there are no Floodplains within 50m of the site. The centre of the study site is not located within 50m of an area benefiting from flood defences. See Section 5 for further details.

Additional Comments

The study site is located in an area where some properties may be affected by Natural Ground Subsidence. Please refer to the Environmental Overview and Section 5.7 for further information.

The study site is located in an area where some properties are Radon Affected. Please refer to the Environmental Overview and Section 5.8 for further information.

We have identified past activities that can cause structural problems on or in proximity to the property. Please refer to the Environmental Overview section for further guidance.

¹ Please note that this assessment takes account of the following data: historical land use, landfill and waste transfer/treatment or disposal sites, scrap yards, current industrial uses (as defined by PointX data), IPPC and LAPPC processes, COMAH and NIHHS sites, dangerous substances releases, RAS consents, discharge and red list discharge consents, EPA 1990 sites and Pollution Incidents. This information is listed in this report. No assessment has been made of the risk presented by natural hazards such as radon, subsidence or flooding or for past or present coal mining activity. No physical inspection of the property has been carried out.

²"High Potential Risk" is the level of risk which results in 1% of reports being In Need of Further Assessment

Environmental Overview and Guidance

GroundSure has thoroughly reviewed the findings of this report and based on the Risk Assessment Team's review there are no significant contaminative concerns that require further consideration.

Whilst falling outside the scope of this assessment you may wish to consider the following factors which could affect the property.

Issue	Guidance
Infilled Land	The study site appears to be located on or in close proximity to a past land use or area of potentially infilled land that can cause structural problems. You may wish to check that any structural surveys performed on the property have taken this into consideration. If such factors have not been considered, you may wish to contact the local Building Regulations Officer, Planning Department and if recently constructed, the site developers. Newer developments may benefit from an NHBC guarantee or other environmental warranty which often covers structural issues.
Flooding	The Environment Agency river and tidal flood data indicates that there are no Floodplains within 50m of the site. The centre of the study site is not located within 50m of an area benefiting from flood defences. See Section 5 for further details.
Natural Ground Subsidence	The BGS have identified a moderate - high potential for natural ground subsidence within the search area. This means that there is the potential for natural ground movement to occur that may be of concern. Such ground movement could cause damage to domestic or other properties. However, properties designed, constructed and maintained in compliance with modern building regulations should be unaffected by most minor subsidence. Therefore, if thinking of buying a property in the area, you should seek professional advice from a professional property surveyor and also look at the property yourself in more detail to look for any signs of existing damage. If you already own a property in the area, and you think natural ground movement may have damaged it, you should contact your insurance company for advice. You should also take professional advice before changing the ground in any way, for example, by planting or removing trees, changing drainage or carrying out building work.
Shallow Mining	None required.
Radon	The property is located in an area where 1-3% of houses may be Radon Affected. The Health Protection Agency (HPA) therefore recommend undertaking a site-specific Radon assessment after purchase (£46.88 incl. VAT). This provides a reading of the Radon level at the property. If remedial measures were required, these are not usually extensive and normally a provision of £1,000 to £2,000 towards these works would be sufficient. This could be achieved by means of a Radon Bond (an agreed sum of money provided by a vendor which is returned if further assessment shows Radon levels are low).
Radon Protection	No Radon protection measures are required.
Coal Mining	None required.
Underground Workings	None required.
Historical Mining	None required.
Natural Cavities	None required.
Mining Cavities	None required.

Introduction to Detailed Findings

General - All mapped features within this report are given an identification number. This number identifies the feature on the maps which precede the following data sections. All distances provided are in metres and directions are given as compass headings.

Section 1.1 - Historical maps are a widely recognised source of information for investigating site history. Nevertheless, analysis of mapping at 1:10,560 and 1:10,000 scale will not always provide a complete site history. If you are concerned about the former uses of a site, we would advise additional analysis of planning records and/or more detailed historical mapping.

Please note that the number of records identified relates to areas subject to potentially contaminative former activities and these do not necessarily correspond to the number of sites found within these areas. In the case of the 1:2,500 scale data relating to areas of London and Bristol 100m² areas are referenced. In cases where such information requires further clarification, GroundSure analyse original source mapping and will adjust the assessment of the report accordingly.

Section 1.2 - Systematic analysis of historical maps can highlight areas which, over time, have the potential to have been infilled with various materials. Such areas can relate to such features as ditches, ponds, clay pits, brickfields and quarries. Areas of infill do not always refer to landfill sites, although they may sometimes indicate the presence of such sites. Such areas are normally infilled with inert materials, although in some cases contaminative materials may have been used.

Sections 1.3 to 1.6 - Selected highly contaminative land uses have been extracted from 1:2,500 and 1:1,250 scale historical mapping. This database covers the majority of the UK from the first available map, but where areas of the UK are not covered it is indicated in the report as "No Data Available". This indicates that no assessment of the risk from these features is included in the report. In this instance if you are still concerned about the former uses of a site, we would advise additional analysis of planning records and/or more detailed historical mapping.

Section 1.7 - Certain military installations were not noted on historic mapping for security reasons. Whilst not all military land is necessarily of concern, GroundSure has researched and digitised a number of Ordnance Factories and other military industrial features (e.g. Ordnance Depots, Munitions Testing Grounds) which may be of contaminative concern. This research was drawn from a number of different sources, and should not be regarded as a definitive or exhaustive database of potentially contaminative military installations. The boundaries of sites within this database have been estimated from the best evidence available to GroundSure at the time of compilation.

Section 2 - This information is gathered from a wide range of sources including the Environment Agency (Agency) and the British Geological Survey (BGS). Additionally this section includes information supplied by Landmark Information Group Limited®. Data supplied by Environment Agency and Landmark Information Group Limited® refers to waste management licences required by anyone involved in waste disposal under the Environmental Protection Act 1990. A survey by the BGS undertaken in 1972/3 provides data on some older landfill sites, which were not subject to this legislation.

Section 3.1 - The answer to this question is based on searches of current industrial data provided by PointX.

Section 3.6 - The answer to this question is based on searches of Environment Agency databases referencing discharges to controlled waters (Discharge Consents) as well as controlled discharges of more harmful substances to public sewers (Red List Discharge and Water Industry Referrals).

Section 3.12 - The answer to this question is based upon information provided by Linewatch relating to strategic oil and gas pipelines. Please note, this data does not refer to standard domestic/commercial supply infrastructure.

Sections 5.1 to 5.3 - The answer to these questions are based upon 50m search radius from the centre of the search location. This is assumed to cover the majority of properties with average sized gardens. The risk to some larger gardens may not be assessed.

Sections 5.4 to 5.6 - The answers to these questions are based upon 250m search radius from the centre of the search location.

Sections 5.7 to 5.9 - The answer to these questions is based upon information found within 50m of the search centre.

Sections 6.1 to 6.2 - The answer to these questions is based upon information found within 50m of the search centre.

Sections 6.3 and 6.4 - These databases provide an indication of "non-coal" mining and natural ground cavities. They are used to provide an indication that activities that have the potential to cause ground instability issues are present in the general vicinity of the property. However the accuracy of the data is not sufficient to confirm if the property will be directly affected.

Report Reference: Homebuyers

Sections 6.5 and 6.6 - Systematic analysis of historical maps can highlight areas where either mining or underground workings have occurred in the past. The information is taken from features presented on historical maps which do not indicate the distance or direction which underground or mining workings extend beneath the surface. e.g features such as mine shafts only indicate the entrance to a mine, and by inference indicate the potential for underground features to extend outward from this point. Some features within this database may also relate to non-mining underground activities e.g.air shafts for underground railways.

Section 7.2 - Please be aware that the information provided in the report includes masts that have OfCom permission to be constructed. This does not imply that they are currently present or will ever be constructed.

Section 7.3 - Please be aware that the findings contained within overhead power transmission lines relates to Ordnance Survey Point X data, which identifies points along the transmission network. Therefore some features on the ground may not appear in the report. This database is provided only to give an indication that unsightly power lines may be present in close proximity to the property.

5.7 Natural Ground Subsidence

What is the potential for natural ground subsidence* within the search area?

Moderate - High

Guidance: The natural ground subsidence rating is obtained through the evaluation of six natural ground stability hazard datasets, which are supplied by the British Geological Survey (BGS). These datasets indicate the hazard posed by the occurrence of: Swell-Shrink Clay, Landslide, Compressible Ground, Collapsible Ground, Dissolution of Soluble Rocks and Running Sand. Many factors may contribute to ground subsidence problems. For instance, significant problems can arise in conurbations underlain by clay rich bedrock, such as over clay strata in the South East of England, or South Wales. Whilst surveyors are normally aware of local problem areas, data provided by the BGS can highlight areas where a significant potential for natural ground subsidence exists and which may need particular consideration.

Where moderate - high potential is indicated, this means that there is the potential for natural ground movement to occur that may be of concern. Such ground movement could cause damage to domestic or other properties. However, properties designed, constructed and maintained in compliance with modern building regulations should be unaffected by most minor subsidence. Therefore, if thinking of buying a property in the area, you should seek professional advice from a professional property surveyor and also look at the property yourself in more detail to look for any signs of existing damage. If you already own a property in the area, and you think natural ground movement may have damaged it, you should contact your insurance company for advice. You should also take professional advice before changing the ground in any way, for example, by planting or removing trees, changing drainage or carrying out building work.

*The term "Subsidence" refers to ground movement that could cause damage to foundations in domestic or other properties.

5.8 Radon Affected Areas

Is the property in a radon Affected Area as defined by the Health Protection Agency (HPA) and if so what percentage of homes are above the Action Level?

5.9 Radon Protective Measures

Is the property in an area where radon protection measures are required for new properties or extensions to existing ones as described in publication BR211 by the Building Research Establishment?

No radon protective measures are necessary

Combined Radon Guidance

Radon is a colourless, odourless radioactive gas which is present in all areas of the United Kingdom, usually at levels that pose a negligible risk to homebuyers. However, in some areas levels of radon are much higher than in others, and in these cases it can pose a health risk. The data supplied by the Health Protection Agency (HPA) and the British Geological Survey (BGS) is not able to determine exact Radon levels, as this information can only be obtained through site-specific, in-situ testing. As 1-3% of properties in the area may be radon affected the HPA recommend carrying out a site-specific radon assessment. This costs £46.88 including VAT and the results are confidential to the client. Please contact the HPA (01235 831 600) for further information and advice.

If planning on building an extension or a new build property, no radon protection measures are required.

6. Mining

6.1 Coal Authority Coal Mining Records

Is the property within an area which may be affected by past, present or proposed underground coal mining? No

Guidance: The study site is not located in an area which is affected by surface or sub-surface coal mining as identified by the Coal Authority. No further action is recommended.

6.2 Shallow Mining

What is the potential for ground subsidence relating to shallow mining within the search area? Low

Guidance: Where low potential is indicated, this means that the rocks underlying the area are of a type known to have been mined at shallow depth in some parts of the UK, but that it is unlikely to be of significant concern in this area. However, it is recommended that you do obtain a Coal Authority mining search in this area, which will provide a comprehensive search of former mining activity, including coal mining at deeper levels.

6.3 Current Ground Workings

Are there any BGS Current Ground Workings within 250m of the centre of the study site? No

This data set is derived from the BGS BRITPITS database covering active, inactive mines, quarries, oil wells, gas wells, mineral wharves, and rail deposits throughout the British Isles.

6.4 Mining Cavities

Is the site located in an area of mining cavities? No

Guidance: This risk rating is obtained from the mining cavities dataset, which is supplied and digitally combined by Peter Brett Associates. There are no records within 250m of the site.

6.5 Natural Cavities

Is the site located in an area of natural cavities? No

Guidance: This risk rating is obtained from the natural cavities dataset, which is supplied and digitally combined by Peter Brett Associates. There are no records within 250m of the site.

6.6 Historical Mining Features from Detailed Mapping

The systematic analysis of data extracted from standard 1:10,560 and 1:10,000 scale historical maps provides the following information.

7. Additional Information

7.1 Mobile Transmitter Locations

GroundSure's unique mobile phone transmitter database.

Have any mobile phone transmitters been identified within 250m of the study site?

No

Database searched and no data found.

7.2 Ofcom Mast Site Clearance Locations

Ofcom telecommunication base station and mast site clearance data details the height and location of all sites approved by Ofcom. The data may relate to an existing mast or a proposal site, therefore it does not necessarily mean that a mast currently exists at this site or that it will be built in the future, just that Ofcom have granted their consent. The data includes masts over 30 metres in height and/or with a power level exceeding 17dBW.

Have any OfCom telecommunication masts been identified within 250m of the study site?

No

Database searched and no data found.

7.3 Pylons and Electricity Transmission Lines

Have any overhead transmission lines been identified within 500m of the study site ?

No

Guidance: Please be aware that the findings contained within overhead power transmission lines relates to Ordnance Survey Point X data, which identifies points along the transmission network. The exact location of the pylons cannot be identified and it is possible that some features within the search area may not appear in the report.

8. Guide to Our Professional Assessment

Introduction

This report is designed for residential conveyancers and their clients and satisfies standard environmental due diligence enquiries, recommended by the Law Society. This information is not always covered by Standard Con 29 Enquiries made to Local Authorities.

Purpose of this Assessment

As part of this report GroundSure provide a professional assessment of the risks posed by key environmental information which could lead to the property being designated as 'Contaminated Land' as defined under Part IIA of the Environmental Protection Act 1990. This assessment is based on the following data:

1. Historical land use (compiled from 1:10,000 & 1:10:560 maps)
2. Historical land use (compiled from 1:2,500) - London and Bristol Only
3. Additional Information Historical land use (compiled from 1:1,250 & 1:2,500 maps) – for selected areas.
4. Landfill and waste transfer/treatment or disposal sites (including scrap yards)
5. Current industrial uses (as defined by PointX data)
6. Catalist Petrol Station
7. Part A(1), Part A(2) and Part B Authorisations
8. Control of Major Accident Hazards Sites (COMAH) and Notification of Installations Handling Hazardous Substances (NIHHS)
9. Dangerous Substances Inventory Releases (DSI)
10. Radioactive Substance Authorisations (RAS)
11. Discharge and Red List Discharge Consent
12. Sites Determined as Contaminated Land under Part IIA EPA 1990
13. Environment Agency Recorded Pollution Incidents
14. Historic Military / Ordnance Sites
15. Planning Hazardous Substance Consents

From this information GroundSure provide a statement regarding the likely designation of the property under Part IIA of EPA 1990 and the level of risk associated with the property is either Passed or In Need of Further Assessment. If the site is In Need of Further Assessment it does not necessarily mean that the site is unsuitable for purchase, but only that further assessment of the risk associated with the site is required. When a site is In Need of Further Assessment then the practitioner may, if required, discuss the case with one of the GroundSure consultants. Where a site is 'In Need of Further Assessment' GroundSure will, on request, attempt to arrange appropriate environmental insurance.

Method Statement

In assessing specific site risk, GroundSure follows principles used extensively throughout the environmental consultancy sector. Our system looks at the potential for specific industries to have generated residual contamination and for this contamination to remain at a site, or to have migrated to neighbouring sites. Sites are scored based on this system and if a site scores highly it indicates a high level of risk.

Limitations of the Study

This screening process reviews historical mapping and a range of current databases. The historical land use database reviewed for this study does NOT include 1:2,500 or 1:1,250 scale maps except for London and Bristol and GroundSure's additional information database of selected features namely tanks, energy features, petrol filling stations and garages. This additional information database covers the majority of the UK, but not all. Where no assessment has been made "No Data Available" is presented in the report. Where 1:2500 or 1:1250 scale maps are utilised all relevant and available map epochs to GroundSure are used. Additionally, this review does NOT include specific enquiries to the Local Authority who may hold additional information and it does NOT include a site visit/inspection. Your attention is drawn to the Terms and Conditions of Groundsure Limited under which this service is provided.

In the event the Claimant wishes to apply for a Clean up Award, it shall notify GroundSure in writing within 3 months of the date of the Remediation Notice. The Claimant shall comply with all reasonable requirements of GroundSure with regard to the commission and conduct of the clean up works to be carried out under the Remediation Notice. In the event that the Claimant breaches this provision including, without limitation, failing to obtain GroundSure's prior written consent in respect of estimates for such works GroundSure shall not be required to pay a Clean up Award.

GroundSure shall only pay a Clean up Award where a Remediation Notice is served within 36 months of the date of GroundSure Homebuyers. The maximum sum of any Clean up Award shall be £60,000 and shall be paid subject to the Claimant having paid to GroundSure an excess in respect of its claim of £5,000. GroundSure reserves the right at any time to withdraw the offer of payment of a Clean up Award.

The Claimant shall take all reasonable steps to appeal such Remediation Notice and mitigate any costs incurred in connection with the remediation works required under the terms of any Remediation Notice. The Search Code provides protection for homebuyers, sellers, conveyancers and mortgage lenders who rely on property search reports carried out on residential property within the United Kingdom. It sets out minimum standards which firms compiling and/or selling search reports have to meet. By giving you this information, your search provider is confirming that they keep to the principles of the Code. This provides important protection for you.

The Code's core principles

Search providers which subscribe to the Code will:

- Display the Code logo prominently on their search reports.

- At all times maintain adequate and appropriate insurance to protect consumers.
- Conduct business in an honest, fair and professional manner.
- Handle complaints speedily and fairly.

- Monitor their compliance with the Code.

Complaints

If you have a query or complaint about your search, you should raise it directly with the search firm, and if appropriate ask for any complaint to be considered under their formal internal complaints procedure. If you remain dissatisfied with the firm's final response, after your complaint has been formally considered, or if the firm has exceeded the response timescales, you may refer your complaint for consideration under The Property Ombudsman scheme (TPOs). The Ombudsman can award compensation of up to £5,000 to you if he finds that you have suffered actual loss as a result of your search provider failing to keep to the Code.

Please note that all queries or complaints regarding your search should be directed to your search provider in the first instance, not to TPOs or to the PCCB.
